

QUEENSLAND'S ENERGY SECURITY

ADAM WATSON | APA GROUP | THURSDAY 29 MAY 2025 | THE STAR, BRISBANE

ADAM WATSON

Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director

Adam Watson is Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director of ASX energy infrastructure company, APA Group. Adam has deep local and international experience in the industrial and manufacturing sectors and in the development, delivery and operations of critical infrastructure, previously holding senior executive roles at Transurban, Melbourne Airport and BlueScope Steel.

APA is Australia's energy infrastructure partner, owning and operating a diverse $27 billion portfolio of energy assets across the country. APA owns and operates some of Queensland's most critical energy assets, including the North West Power System, which delivers reliable energy to Mount Isa and Cloncurry, along with key gas transmission infrastructure that supports the state's domestic and export gas markets.

APA's experience across power generation, electricity transmission and gas transportation and storage sets it apart, providing a unique, practical, and technology agnostic lens of the energy market.

In this address, Adam will consider the important role Queensland's natural gas sector will play in energy security and transition in Australia and abroad, along with the need to deliver new gas-powered generation and other infrastructure across Queensland to support a reliable, affordable and lower emissions energy system.

Adam has a Bachelor of Business, RMIT University; FCPA; GAICD, Advanced Management Program, Columbia University.
